"I recently became a member of SMC Business Councils. I will admit that initially it was for the networking opportunities. However, after starting with my membership, I realized SMC has so much more to offer my company. In particular, I have been using SMC's office and training room. These are free to SMC members and offer a professional presence to my business. But it's not just about these rooms. It's also how special I've been treated by SMC staff during those times I have used the rooms. As time rolls on, I look forward to building our relationship together. SMC is top notch, and I look forward to many years with them."
